

Dr hab. Janusz Maciaszek has been an associated professor from 1995, and a professor from 2009 in the Department of Logic and Methodology of Science University of Lodz.

His interests focus on philosophy of language, and in particular on philosophy of Donald Davidson, theory of metaphor, and philosophy of action.

He is the author of three books (in Polish):

- Logical Symbols (2003),
- Meaning Holism of Kazimierz Ajdukiewicz (2007), and
- Meaning, Truth, Beliefs. The Problems of Meaning in Philosophy of Language (2008).

